Sell Us Your Wool For Spot Cash

We are the largest cash wool buyers in the county and can make it to your interest to let us handle your wool this season. We have had years of experience in buying and selling wool, consequently we are in touch with the best available markets to be found, and can pay you good prices.

EVERY DOLLAR IN CASH.

The wool market is not fully established yet, but the outlook is very favorable. While prices may not range quite as high as last year the demand will be good and the better wools will be wanted at favorable prices. Market your wool in good condition, bring it to this store and Uncle Lin Wilkins came in one day last week and had us mark up the subscription of his brother, E. C. Wilkins, Worthington Ind. "Uncle Lin" is one of the printer's friends.

Notice

All parties knowing themselves to be indebted to Estes Brothers are urgently requested to call and settle the same on or before the 15th of May and save the expense of forced collection. I have been patient and feel that I cannot wait longer.

Respectfully,
C. R. Estes.

Dr. C. A. Sander went to Farmington Tuesday to attend the meeting of the Southeast Missouri Medical Association. His little niece, Annie Snider, accompanied him, to visit her father, G. B. Snider.

John P. Morgan took family vacation at the home of his parents, Attorney and Mrs. Wm. M. Morgan, a few days the first of the week. John has been teaching at Morley.

Mrs. A. A. Kinder of near Buchanan who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. D. J. Conrad and family, in Lutesville, visited at the home of W. A. Dunn in Marble Hill Tuesday.

J. M. Limbaugh made this office an appreciated call Tuesday and cashed up for The Press. Mr. Limbaugh is building himself a garage, from which fact we conclude that he expects to be riding in a buzz wagon one of these days.

Dr. C. A. Sander accompanied Percy Hawn to Cape Girardeau last Thursday, we are informed, who was suffering of appendicitis, and went over to consult a specialist. This seems to be one of the common ills of humanity now.

We received an appreciated letter from Will E. Young, Sr. Lutesville, a few days ago, which contained his annual dues to The Press, as well as best wishes to the printer and his little orphanage.

Mrs. J. M. Christman, and her son, Gilbert of Cape Girardeau, spent Sunday and Monday last week with her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Christman. They returned home Tuesday. Local News.

Mrs. George Welch of Bessville visited her sister, Mrs. E. O. Sander last Saturday and Sunday morning. She accompanied her sister, Mrs. Baker and daughter, Myrtle. Mrs. Baker is keeping house for the Chandler children.

Dr. C. E. Presnell motored over to Millersville Tuesday morning and spent some time there and made it back to Marble Hill in four and a half hours. This was making pretty good time. He tells us that his mother-in-law, Mrs. Battle has made some improvement.

Miss Lizzie Russell and S. A. Martin of Lutesville made this office a pleasant call Wednesday of last week while the paper was being printed. Mrs. Russell has been away some time. She spent a good portion of the fall and winter visiting relatives in Mississippi and went from there to Fort Worth, Texas, to spend most of the last several months there, visiting relatives and friends, and also she had a most enjoyable time while away.

Rev. Ed. Stovall, pastor of the Baptist church at Desloge, attended the Ministers' and Laymen's conference here the first of the week and made this office an appreciated visit. He spent several years in school at Will Mayfield college some years ago and is not a stranger in our town.

A. N. BARKS DIED SUDDENLY

Alonzo N. Barks, one of our towns oldest and best known citizens, was found dead in his home on Main St. Monday morning. His death was a surprise to all who knew him. He was a native of New York and had been in this country for many years. He was a member of the Methodist church and was a very kind and generous man. He was found by his wife, Mrs. Barks, who was in the house at the time. He was found lying on the floor, and his death was attributed to a heart attack. He was about 60 years of age. His funeral will be held on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at the Methodist church. He was buried in the White Water cemetery. —Fredericktown Democrat-News.

Mr. Barks was a native of New York county, having been born and reared north of Sedgewickville, where he spent the early part of his life. He was in possession of several acres of land in this county, and was a very successful farmer. He was a member of the Methodist church and was a very kind and generous man. He was found by his wife, Mrs. Barks, who was in the house at the time. He was found lying on the floor, and his death was attributed to a heart attack. He was about 60 years of age. His funeral will be held on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at the Methodist church. He was buried in the White Water cemetery. —Fredericktown Democrat-News.

MME. SCHUMANN-HEINK

for several years but like a man of affairs, never succeeded in his attempts for official position. He left home, relatives and friends in our country who will be sorry to learn of his death.

M. Kinder of Fredericktown came down the first of the week and spent a couple of days with relatives and friends in Lutesville and Marble Hill. He was a resident of Bollinger county all of his energetic and upright Christian life, until something like a year ago when he went to Fredericktown to make his home with a son and had a host of friends here who were glad to see him. He expected to go here to Cape Girardeau to visit a son, and from there to Poplar Bluff to visit a daughter and will return to Bollinger county and visit in the vicinity of Buchanan, where he formerly resided, before going back to his home at Fredericktown.

In Memory of

James J. Limbaugh, born October 22, 1878, died January 14, 1920, and Thomas May Limbaugh, born May 11, 1872, died March 16, 1920, the sons of John J. Limbaugh and Mary Limbaugh.

James's first birthday had been celebrated but a few weeks before, and the joys of Christmas time had hardly passed when the happy home was darkened by that sudden entrance of death he claim the body of the young man and by the time he had been away on every head of the family. He was a very kind and generous man. He was found by his wife, Mrs. Limbaugh, who was in the house at the time. He was found lying on the floor, and his death was attributed to a heart attack. He was about 40 years of age. His funeral will be held on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at the Methodist church. He was buried in the White Water cemetery. —Fredericktown Democrat-News.

In less than two months in this town, little James, at 40, as we called him, became a parent in the best of health, and then, with only a few days to live, he was found dead in his home. He was a very kind and generous man. He was found by his wife, Mrs. Limbaugh, who was in the house at the time. He was found lying on the floor, and his death was attributed to a heart attack. He was about 40 years of age. His funeral will be held on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at the Methodist church. He was buried in the White Water cemetery. —Fredericktown Democrat-News.

The deaths of these two little girls, in such close succession came as a terrible blow to the family. Jimmie was just beginning to talk and her first spoken words, her baby voice and the clever little habits she was beginning to form when death came, can never be forgotten by those who know her. She was as a beautiful ray of sunshine sent to brighten and bring gladness to the home for a while and whose early going away left that home in the darkest shadow of gloom it had ever known. That shadow was deepened by the death of Dorinda, the little school-girl, Mother's helper, and a light of joy and happiness which beamed in two homes. By her death her Grandmother, to whom she had been such a dear companion, is left broken hearted and lonely. Her parents who took so much pride in her and to whom her life was so dear have received the most overwhelming shock of their lives. Her two little brothers who survive her are appalled at her sudden departure and are henceforth deprived of the sweet and inspiring influence which her life would have always had on theirs.

Her little cousins who romped and played with her every day now call in with her to return them. Her grandmother, her parents, her little brothers, her uncles and aunts, her cousins and all who know her miss her and mourn the loss of this wonderful child of the party and the joy of her childhood, which was plucked and carried away, and a mother before the full moon, and beauty of life could unfold.

But there is more to the lives of these little ones than they knew in this short time they were with us. The attachment by which they were bound to us cannot be severed by the grave. On that "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" beyond the veil, barrier peaks of death they will wait for their loved ones in that home where sorrow and death are unknown.

OBITUARY

Nancy C. Bollinger (nee Doggett), wife of W. A. Bollinger, died at her home in Fredericktown, Mo., April 8, 1920, from organic troubles, after several years suffering, at the age of 65.

She was born in Hamilton county, Tennessee, in 1855 and came to Missouri with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Doggett, in 1865, and was married to W. A. Bollinger in 1876. To this union thirteen children were born, ten of whom survive her, two having died and one son, Allen, being killed in the battle of Chateau Thiers.

She is survived by a husband two brothers, John W. and Grant Doggett, 10 children, 30 grandchildren and a host of friends to mourn her death, but not as those who have no hope.

She united with the M. E. Church, South in early life and remained a faithful member and devoted Christian until death.

The courage with which she observed the sure approach of death as she smilingly met him was founded on an unflinching trust, an abiding faith and a glorious hope. The shadow of death was no dark valley to her, but a sunlit path leading home and though the body was bent with anguish the eyes looked serenely into a beyond that held no doubts or fears.

She did not shrink from death, but grasped him by the hand and after one last word of admonition to her children, with wide open eyes, a clear mind and a pleasant smile she stepped into her new life.

Such a death, a fitting climax to her blameless life and a character of sterling integrity, is a beautiful inspiration and a promise to the living.

The remains were laid to rest near the old homestead, in Post Oak cemetery, near Patton.

A Brother.
